The area provides bed & breakfast in pubs and private houses and self catering apartments. There are also camping grounds but services and facilities vary so please check before booking. The main difficulty is that much of the accommodation only contains a small number of rooms of which few are fully accessible.

Before you make a reservation, please check very carefully exactly what facilities are offered and ensure that the accommodation fully understands your requirements, such as width of wheel chair if used and the number of steps if any have to be negotiated to gain access.
